WEATHER

WEATHER SYNOPSIS BY REGION:

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA AND CENTRAL COASTAL AREAS:

Eureka Weather:

High pressure will continue to maintain dry weather with above normal temperatures through the weekend. An upper trough will bring cooling to Northern California next week.

San Francisco Weather:

High pressure building over California will promote warm inland temperatures today and Memorial Day. Temperatures will cool to near or slightly below normal Tuesday through Friday as a trough of low pressure passes over Northern California.

CENTRAL CALIFORNIA AND SOUTHERN SAN JOAQUIN VALLEY

Sacramento Weather:

High pressure building over the forecast area will bring warming temperatures through today, and then cooler temperatures are expected through the week as low pressure approaches.

Hanford Weather:

The remainder of the Memorial Day weekend will be dry and much warmer as a high pressure ridge builds in over central California. Temperatures will then trend downward through the week as a low pressure system develops along the West Coast.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA:

Los Angeles Weather:

A warming trend is expected through next Tuesday as high pressure builds in from the west. Closer to the coast, onshore flow and a persistent marine layer will keep the warming trend moderated. A weak trough of low pressure will bring a cooling trend to the area Wednesday through the end of the week.

Extreme Southwestern California Including Orange, San Diego, Western Riverside and Southwestern San Bernardino Counties:

High pressure over the eastern Pacific will expand into California through midweek bringing inland warming and a gradually shallower marine layer. Temperatures will be a little cooler for Thursday and Friday, and then slow inland warming for next weekend. Onshore flow will keep coastal areas cool with locally gusty wet winds in the mountains deserts each late afternoon through late evening.

Southeast California Weather:

A low pressure system will continue moving slowly eastward today and isolated showers are possible again for the forecast area. Warmer and drier conditions will return to the desert southwest early this week as high pressure becomes reestablished to the south and east. Cooler conditions are possible late in the week as moisture increases across the region.

Drive-By Shooting, Santa Barbara County 5/23/14 (No Change)

Cal OES Southern Region is working with Santa Barbara County OEM to assess any need for victim's services and reports that:

- Santa Barbara County Mental Health Department was activated on the night of 05/23/14 to provide any services to those individuals impacted by the shootings. They do not require state support at this time.
- Santa Barbara County has not activated their EOC.
- Non-LE needs are being met at this time, but the Southern Region will stay actively engaged with the County.
- UC Santa Barbara indicates they are closely monitoring the details that are emerging from the shootings in Isla Vista on Friday night.
- Counseling services are available for students on campus at the Student Resource Building and the university has set up emergency housing for displaced students. Santa Barbara County Mental Health and the Santa Barbara County Chaplains will be providing assistance on campus and at other locations, as needed.
- There is also a call center for parents and students with questions (805) 893-4411. This is a 24/7 UCSB counseling hotline, available for emergency support and referrals.
- UC Santa Barbara officials are also working with the local County Sheriff's Office and have opened the campus' Emergency Operations Center.

Cal EOC Incident – 2014 Drought

Situational Summary

On January 17, 2014 Governor Edmund G. Brown proclaimed a State of Emergency and directed state officials to take all necessary actions to prepare for drought conditions. The State Operation Center (SOC) is activated to implement objectives in support of the Governor's priorities. The lack of winter rain and snowfall has resulted in extremely dry conditions in many parts of the State. Reservoir levels are down significantly from where they should be on average for this time of year. If conditions continue without substantial rainfall, severe impacts to municipal water supplies, agriculture (plants and livestock) and firefighting capabilities are likely in store for the State over the next few months. Negative economic impacts will also result.

**As our state's rainy season comes to an end, it is highly unlikely that precipitation totals will increase significantly. This winter's below average rain and snowfall worsens conditions in this third straight dry year.***

The drought could result in severe impacts to the municipal water supplies, wells, agriculture (plants and livestock) and firefighting capabilities for several months. The SOC continues to be activated to monitor the situation statewide, and support regional and local operational areas.

- The Taskforce continues to meet regularly to take actions that conserve water and coordinate state response to the drought.
- The final manual snowpack survey of the season was conducted on Thursday (May 1) and showed California snowpack at 18% of normal.
- DWR has announced that water essential for health and safety will be delivered through the state water project. The current State Water Project Allocation is 5%.
- Cal OES continues to gather drought-related costs from state agencies and local governments.
